1. PRESENTATION

With its staff of highly qualified Professionals with a higher education and postgraduate level, specialists in the development of robust architectures and solutions, Trópico S.A. and its affiliates offer their Customers innovative solutions in Information and Communication Technology (ICT) that add value and competitiveness, creating value for Customers and Shareholders, contributing to the progress and well-being of society.

A company with focus on Customer, agile, flexible and reliable, with high quality standards in marketing, engineering projects, development, manufacturing and provision of integration services, technical support, consulting and operation of technological solutions, notoriously for wireless communication networks, multimedia communication networks, virtualization of network functions and Internet of things (IoT); in the Brazilian and International markets, and is also recognized as a creative, innovative and operating company in the global market.

Law No. 12.846, which provides for the Administrative and Civil Responsibility of Legal Entities, not excluding the individual responsibility of their Employees for the practice of Acts prejudicial to the National or Foreign Public Administration, known as the Anti-Corruption Law published by the Federal Government in 2013 and regulated in 2015 by Decree Law No. 8.420, establishes a set of requirements that meet the already established policies of ethics and conduct of Trópico S.A., aimed at directing its Employees, External Providers, Partners and Clients to the strict compliance with laws and, especially, for the permanent desire for the full and sustainable development of Brazilian society.

In this sense, since the publication of the Anti-Corruption Law, Trópico took the initiative to add to the Code of Conduct in force a set of formal practices through this document called Trópico Integrity Program, which fundamentally seeks to adapt the different instruments and existing practices in the Organization, in perfect harmony with the requirements established by law and its regulations.

2. OBJECTIVES AND SCOPE

This document aims to establish an alignment between the behavioral policies of Trópico with those defined in the Anti-Corruption Law and its established regulation.

These mandatory know-how practices must be complied with by all Trópico Employees and by all those related to and on behalf of Trópico, including External Providers, Partners, Business Representatives, Companies in which Trópico has participation, among others.

Special attention should be given to the relationship with the Public Administration and its agents.

The Process Flow of Trópico Integrity Program is presented below:

Trópico Sistemas e Telecomunicações S.A.

Rua Doutor Ricardo Benetton Martins, 1000 – Prédio 12 A - Polo II de Alta Tecnologia – P12A Campinas, SP Brasil 13086-510

Trópico Integrity program defined in this document is communicated to all new Employees through the HR-driven Environment process as soon as they join the company. At the end, all receive and sign the “Term of Science and Agreement to Trópico Integrity Program”.

The Employees already enrolled received training through the Trópico-Info Meeting, gathered in the Auditorium, at which time they also signed the "Term of Science and Agreement for the Trópico Integrity Program".

External Providers are always communicated in the act of formalizing the relationship, through the Responsible Area.

Trópico does not tolerate any initiative by its Employees, External Providers and Partners in the offer of any kind of advantages to the Public/Private Administrations or its agents/representatives for the purpose of creating any benefit for Trópico.

Public Administration is understood not only the direct administration, but also the indirect administration, such as municipalities and state-owned enterprises.

Also included are political parties and institutions of any nature and associated with them.

3. TRÓPICO CODE OF CONDUCT

Trópico has developed around the idea that it is possible to do business in an ethical way, preserving mutual respect, transparency and excellence in all its actions and relations with the various interested publics and associated with its life and its business, and thus participate in the development of technology and solutions that will contribute to the country's development, generating consistent results, encouraging the professional achievement of its Employees.

This Code of Conduct seeks to translate the positions already consecrated in Trópico throughout its existence, helping it live according to those same values.

It functions as a compass, a guider, helping it to navigate between the possible choices in each situation, so that each Employee makes the right decisions. However, this Code of Conduct is not intended to provide all the answers to various situations that may arise. Therefore, all we, Employees, need to reflect and always question ourselves about the adequacy of our own behaviors, and those of our colleagues, to the values and to the ethical behavior of Trópico.

3.1. THE RELATIONSHIP WITH ITS CUSTOMERS

The relationship with Customers is guided by ethics and transparency, oriented towards the continuous aggregation of value to the Customer business and the establishment of lasting partnerships. Trópico wants to be recognized as a partner of its Customers, using as basis for the construction of this position its products, its services and its technical, advisory and management skills.

3.2. THE RELATIONSHIP WITH ITS PARTNERS AND EXTERNAL PROVIDERS

The relationship with Partners and External Providers is considered a central element in the strategic positioning of Trópico and its action as a company. It is in this sense that we seek collaborative relationships with a long-term win-win perspective, established on an ethical basis, based on trust and the definition of fair trading conditions.

3.3. THE RELATIONSHIP WITH ITS EMPLOYEES

The relationship with its Employees is a central element so that the mission and vision of Trópico, its values and its rationale materialize in an objective way. The principles that govern this relationship are ethics, the recognition of labor rights and, above all, the commitments with the creation of elements that provide people with an adequate quality of life and the conditions for their professional and human development through a meritocratic management based on individual and collective performance (team spirit).

3.4. THE RELATIONSHIP WITH SOCIETY

A company is a "social organism" that is justified while preserving its ability to add value to the society that receives it. Trópico understands and welcomes this social dimension and seeks to contribute, proactively, to society and the communities in which it is inserted and with which it relates.

3.5. THE RELATIONSHIP WITH ITS SHAREHOLDERS

In the relationship with its Shareholders, Trópico excels by the transparency and zeal in the treatment of the information. It understands that it is a point of vital importance for the development of the businesses and the technology that puts in the market. Trópico adopts corporate governance practices that seek excellence, rigor in management, in the application of resources and in the evaluation and treatment of risks inherent to its business, which ensure profitability to the business in a sustainable way with creation of value for its Shareholders.

3.6. THE RELATIONSHIP WITH THE PUBLIC SPHERE

The relationship with defining bodies and executors of public policies and regulatory agents, such as ministries, secretariats, regulatory agencies, armed forces, among others, is understood as important for the development of Trópico's business. This relationship is structured from an institutional, ethical and political neutral perspective.

3.7. THE RELATIONSHIP WITH COMPETITION

The conduct of Trópico in its process of competition with other companies is based solely on the search for the most appropriate commercial and technical solution, aiming always at the best attendance to the demands presented by the Customer.

The relationship with Financial Institutions and External Providers guarantees the pertinent access to accounting and financial information necessary for established businesses.

4.7. BUSINESS PARTICIPATION

In the event of acquisitions, mergers or corporate reorganizations involving the companies in which Trópico has a stake, prior evaluations are promoted through administrative, economic and accounting audits, and to these are also applicable this Integrity Program practiced in Trópico.

4.8. ZERO TOLERANCE TO CORRUPTION

Trópico does not tolerate any type of corruption and always claims to comply with the Brazilian Law and other countries laws with which it establishes a commercial relationship. All Employee is responsible for its actions and cannot act on behalf of Trópico, promise, receive, take or offer any undue advantage for any purpose.

Trópico considers bribery or corruption the offering of idealized advantages with the purpose of accelerating or facilitating administrative processes, public or private contracting, licenses, judicial or competitive decisions, or those that aim to receive favored treatment improper.

5. DETECTION AND COMMUNICATION

Trópico has established three ways of detecting possible deviations that may be practiced in relation to this program team:

- a. Internal Audits, jointly or otherwise, with the Audits of the QMS;
- b. External Audits in External Providers and Business Partners, jointly or otherwise, with the QMS Audits

c. Reporting Channel

The internal audits are intended to assess whether the procedures established for Trópico Integrity Program are in compliance with the requirements mentioned in this document and applicable Procedures, as well as if they are being followed by all the Employees of Trópico. It has a specific Annual Planning or may be part of the Annual Plan of Audits of the Trópico Certified Quality Management System.

The External Audits in External Providers and Business Partners have the same purpose, but are focused on their evaluation, regarding the adoption of appropriate procedures, and are part of an Annual Audit Plan independent of the Plan previously described.

The Reporting Channel is an efficient tool available to the internal and external public to Trópico, accessible through the website (www.tropiconet.com), in the “Contatos [Contact]” tab, “Canal de Denúncia [Reporting Channel]” option, sending the message in a confidential way, without identification of the complainant to the Trópico Ethics Committee, represented by persons responsible for the Management of the Guidelines established in the Code of Ethics.

6. CONSEQUENCES FOR INADEQUATE CONDUCT

The requirements defined here must be met as fundamental premises for the continuity of the existence and growth of Trópico itself and, logically, the development of its Employees, its greatest asset.

In that sense, for any inappropriate conduct, treatments will be directed according to the severity and impact that these inadequacies cause or that may cause in the future.

In the event of an inappropriate action or activity of conduct, it is immediately interrupted and brought to Trópico Ethics Committee, which deliberates on the adoption of actions both towards the violator(s), as well as corrections of any damages that has occurred or may occur.
